

Sun Senior News May 15th

The Cinco De Mayo Potluck at the Sports Pavilion was a tremendous success. Approximately seventy-five members shared delicious appetizers, salads, main dishes and desserts. Attendees had the choice of playing land volleyball, cornhole or socializing on a sunny Sunday afternoon. One member described the event as the “best ever” with great food and excellent company. The Cinco De Mayo potluck may become an annual event for the Water Volleyball Club.

The Club Social Coordinator is busy at work on the summer and fall schedule of events. Water volleyball in the outdoor pool at Orchard Creek has been a member favorite. Check the Club website for Kim’s update on when outdoor pool play will begin in June --- bring your sunscreen, family and friends!

Ladies Night on Wednesday, May 1st was well attended by recreational and competitive players. Eighteen ladies competed in the Kilaga pool with flowers in their hair. Kudos to the volunteer organizers and captains for selecting teams and creating lineups. The ending score for the fun filled games was “even steven”.

The monthly Water Volleyball Club training was again well attended by thirty recreational and competitive players. Members participated in skill based instruction and pool practice focused on strategy at the net. Kudos to Russ, trainer administrator, and the awesome volunteer trainers for their contribution of skills and experience to the betterment of all club members.

Over thirty-five Water Volleyball Club members signed up to play in the “Some Like It Hot” Tournament during the week of May 13th. Five teams of seven from Levels 4, 5, and 6 played each other competing for a place in the Championship match. The opportunity to meet and play with members from the three different skill levels was received by all players as not only enjoyable but a great way to improve individual and team play skills.

The Steering Committee has been hard at work streamlining ways to communicate with our large Club of 119 members. Ross, the Webmaster supreme, has been fluffing and buffing the website to include updates on Club activities, posting monthly articles, adding new members pictures and exploring ways to make sign ups for Mondays and Wednesdays more convenient. Beginning in June, members will be able to sign up for Levels 4, 5, and 6 team play on the Water Volleyball Club website. This innovation has been successfully implemented by other Sun City Clubs.
